AMERICANS OPEN NEW DRIVE IN NORMANDY RUSSIANS REPORTED AT GATES OF GERMANY

Nazi Broadcast Admits Reverse Outside Prussia

Germans in Wilno Face Annihilation

By RUSSELL LANDSTROM
LONDON, Wednesday, July 12 (P)—Russian armies plunged steadily toward East Prussia and the Baltic sea yesterday, continuing to bowl over all Nazi efforts to organize effective opposition, while late German broadcasts cried, "the enemy is at the gates of Germany."

Daugavpils, big rail center in Southern Latvia, rapidly was being outflanked from the south and advances up to twenty miles were registered by Soviet forces on some sections of the 350-mile battle front, Moscow said.

Germans Disorganized

Everywhere the disorganized Germans were being pounded relentlessly. The early morning supplement to the Russian communiqué listed at least 4,000 Nazi soldiers killed and hundreds captured during yesterday's fighting and Moscow also reported that the round-up of encircled Nazi remnants east of Minsk had been completed.

The Russians also were carrying out a battle for the annihilation of German troops encircled in the center of Wilno, Moscow said, as street fighting there continued through the fourth day.

In the face of this machine-like destruction of German defenses, the Berlin radio assumed a somber tone seldom if ever matched in its propaganda spelling, admitted "the supreme test has come."

Germany Admits Reverses

The German radio acknowledged that Soviet troops had smashed west beyond Wilno and were striking along the road leading to Kaunas, capital of Lithuania.

The Moscow communiqué told of the capture of the town of Olenki on the Merchanka river, fifty miles southeast of Kaunas, as Red units advanced twenty miles westward from a point midway between Wilno and Lida.

Official figures on the toll of German casualties resulting from the Nazis' headlong flight from Minsk were not disclosed, but the broadcast Russian communiqué said that more than 2,000 prisoners were taken in the final day of the mopping up operations east of the White Russian capital, raising the unofficial day-to-day tabulation of German killed and wounded in the area to approximately 55,000.

Steady progress in the westward offensive was indicated all along the 350-mile central front, with 400 populated places being taken during the day, although no startling new Soviet gains were reported.

Already within sixty miles of East Prussia and little more than 100 miles from the Baltic seaport of Riga, capital of Latvia, the Russian armies threatened hourly to break through the Nazis' crumbling defenses and the German radio admitted "the supreme test has come."

Destroy Enemy Groups

Lt. Gen. Kurt Dittmar, Nazi propagandist, predicted still other retreats on the central front and intimated that the German high commander had been guilty of miscalculations, saying "for obvious reasons it cannot be discussed at the moment how a situation could arise enabling the Russians to advance to quite unexpected depth."

Camp Is Government Project

The camp is known as the Westbrook trailer camp and is adjacent to the federal Redbank housing development. The trailers are of the semi-permanent type.

The camp is a government project and houses families of men and women working in shipbuilding and other war industries in the greater Portland area.

Dozens of trailers were demolished and set afire as the plane landed in their midst.

All that was left standing of one was its red brick chimney.

Motors Seen in Trouble

Theodore Halley, meat cutter in nearby Redbank village, a government project, said he observed the plane swoop in low with the motor sounding as though it were in trouble.

"It seemed as though the pilot tried to land against an embankment in front of the trailers so as not to hit them."

Roosevelt Expected To Tell Party He Wants Wallace for Running Mate

WASHINGTON, July 11 (P)—Faded removed that as a weapon for President Roosevelt held another long conference with Vice President Wallace today as authoritative reports circulated that he would issue a statement within forty-eight hours expressing a preference for Wallace as his 1944 running mate.

At the same time Democratic leaders indicated the president would allow the convention to make a free choice without any dictation from the White House.

Four years ago the Roosevelt convention managers told delegates he would not accept a third nomination unless Wallace was given second place on the ticket.

But Roosevelt's pre-convention announcement today made it clear he would accept renomination if tend-

ONE OF EIGHT GERMAN NURSES captured by American forces at a hospital in Cherbourg, France, waits to enter a United States ambulance which will take her back to the Nazi lines under a true agreement. This is the second time that a group of eight Nazi nurses taken in a Cherbourg hospital were returned to their countrymen.

Americans Attempt Flanking Movement

By NOLAN NORGAARD

ROME, July 11 (P)—American troops were striking northward in persuading Connecticut's Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin to seek re-election was not discussed, he stated.

Wearing a blossom print dress, Mrs. Luce started reporters' pencils whirling with her remark:

Dewey "Inevitable Man"

"Mr. Roosevelt is the indispensable man for the Democratic party, but it seems to me that Mr. Dewey is the inevitable man for the United States of America."

Dewey "spent most of his time talking with us in trying to arrive at a general philosophy of government for the United States in the years to come, rather than any particular thing useful or expedient in the campaign," Mrs. Luce said, adding:

"He seemed interested in what promises could be kept as well as made to the great masses of people in the United States."

Asked if international affairs were discussed, Mrs. Luce said "there is a vast area of agreement in the party and in the United States that America will, must and wants to join an international organization which will keep peace with other nations, and, I now use his method of government is at stake," Mr. Roosevelt went on.

Dewey "had the expected two-term presidential tradition in 1940 would wait until the convention, starting a week from tomorrow in Chicago, actually nominate him. That was the course he followed four years ago."

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican nominee, refused to comment on the president's announcement. So did James A. Farley who helped elect the president to two White House terms as national Democratic chairman only to balk at a third term and now at a fourth.

No News to Willow

Wendell L. Willkie, the 1940 republican presidential nominee, asked: "Is that news?" when informed of the Roosevelt-Hannegan letters.

Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York said he was very happy to hear the news, "but frankly I cannot pretend to be surprised and that goes for the nomination, too."

Helfrich Objects As City Officials Take Over Lots

The question of paving lots in the city was discussed pro and con at a meeting of mayor and council Monday when Mayor Thomas S. Post requested the purchase of sixteen lots in the Walsh addition, for the purpose of using them, along with seventeen county lots, for playground purposes.

All members of the council were in favor of the purchase of the lots with the exception of Commissioner Hunter B. Helfrich who insisted that paving lots against the lots should be collected.

The lots were ordered bought at a cash outlay of $43.75, representing taxes owed the state and county. It required four orders to complete the transaction and Helfrich voted against all of them.

The orders provided for payment of $43.75, for taxes; granted insolvency of $1,140.90 to James M. Conway, collector; and $99.30 to Charles F. Burke, Jr., collector for city taxes on the lots owned by P. J. and Clara W. Seaver, Walsh and Seaver and William C. Walsh, trustee; a credit of $387.6 for a paving lien on lot 556, on Lafayette avenue and a credit of $35.34 for a paving lien on lot 446 on Lafayette avenue. The city purchased lots 226 to 237 inclusive, on Lexington avenue and lots 246 to 249 on Mary street.

During the discussion which preceded the transaction Helfrich expressed the belief that an effort should be made to sell the lots to collect the liens. Commissioner William E. McDonald insisted that there were no buyers for the lots.

Helfrich declared that it is the duty of mayor and council to collect money. He asserted that he did not like to look at the $104.72 balance in the paving bond account.

No Surprise To Anybody

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S ANNOUNCEMENT, made in his usual supercilious press conference manner, that he would accept renomination for a fourth term did not occasion a ripple of surprise anywhere on the American political pond. This was a foregone conclusion, an accepted fact, in view of the studied program that has been carried out toward the fourth term.

It was also expected that the president would budge his willingness to accept and his campaign strategy upon the war and this he did in what to many appear an unseemly manner by his assertion that he had "as little right to withdraw as the soldier has to leave his post in the line" and his use of the term, commander-in-chief.

Significant was omission of any reference to a running mate. This indicates that Mr. Roosevelt has sensed the inter-party opposition to Wallace and will select some other under the camouflage of letting the Chicago convention do it.

Army Shoes Used For Fertilizer

CARLOADS of army shoes in good condition are being sold for scrap and ground into fertilizer while the administration is spending millions of dollars for new shoes to send abroad as part of its global relief plans. Representative Calvin Johnson, Republican, Illinois, charged in Congress recently.

The disclosure was made to House members during debate on a proposed $3,920,000,000 appropriation for lend-lease and the United Nations Rehabilitation and Relief Administration for the 1943 fiscal year.

Representative Johnson charged the turning of good shoes into fertilizer at a time when footwear was rationed at home and being bought for distribution abroad was indefensible and typical of New Deal waste and inefficiency.

Exhibiting a pair of the army shoes shipped in open coal cars to the Smith-Rowland Company, fertilizer manufacturers at Granite City, Ill., the congressman noted they were only recently half-soled and had new rubber heels. It appears that these shoes are newly repaired before they are sold for scrap," he said. "At the same time, we find UNRRA is asking Congress for $215,000,000 to buy shoes and other apparel for destitute people in Europe, and the army is asking additional millions for the same purpose."

It doesn't seem to make sense—but you never can tell; it may be that the fertilizer was badly needed.

Blood for Space And Both Are Lost

EARLIER IN THE WAR, when the Germans switched from offensive to defensive, their leaders told them they are trading space for time. On the long retreat from Stalingrad to the Dnieper they encouraged their whipped armies with the story that they were shortening their lines and soon would establish a position through which their enemies could not break.

That was and is a false hope. The Allies have been breaking through line after line—impregnable lines by Nazi descriptions—in Tunisia, Italy, Russia and along the French coast.

It surely is dawning upon the German people that they are no longer trading space for time in which to entrench themselves firmly. They are trading blood for space and losing both. Moscow announces that Nazi losses in dead and prisoners in the present Russian offensive exceed 300,000. Axis dead and captured on the Cherbourg peninsula alone total 50,000. Their losses in Caen and in Italy result in further shrinkage of Nazi fighting resources. And as these resources shrink the enemy will be compelled to surrender, spare more speedily.

In the war of attrition now under way in France, Italy and Russia the Nazis have all the worst of it. Every time they fall back they have fewer men with which to defend the next position. Hitler may shout of fanaticism as the salvation of Germany, but fanaticism must be bolstered by fighting men and weapons equal to those of the opposition.

That Annoying "Ping" Of Today's Gasoline

If you are annoyed by a "ping" in the operation of your motor car resulting from use of present-day gasoline, don't be unduly alarmed. It doesn't mean that the gas is of poor quality, according to gasoline experts quoted in an article in the current issue of Keystone Motorist, monthly publication of the Keystone Automobile Club.

According to the experts, the "ping" is due to the use of fewer "light fractions" in the blending of gasoline. "In normal times," the statement says, "automobile gasolines are made by blending light and heavy gasoline fractions. The 'heavies' make up the biggest part of the blend, because they deliver more power and mileage. But the 'light' fractions are included because they vaporize quicker and ignite more readily. Consequently, they are of considerable help in starting cars when the motor is cold and providing snap during the warming up period. After that, they're not so important."

"Annoying gasolines, on the other hand, demand far more 'light' fractions than automotive fuels. So the gas for autos is now composed mostly of the 'heavy' fractions. It will give you as much power and mileage, but it will 'ping' under certain conditions, such as rapid acceleration and hill climbing. The annoying noise can be minimized, by slower acceleration and shifting gears on grades and hills."

It is admitted that the octane rating of automotive gas has been lowered, but the experts assert it is still sufficiently high to give satisfactory service in motor cars, and that is a bit of comfort for all who may be worrying whether their cars are likely to hold up under the fuel restrictions made necessary by the war effort.

A Circumstance That Stinks

IT IS a discouraging fact that all the efforts in and out of Congress to reduce the swollen number of government civilian employees have to date proved unsuccessful.

Senator Harry F. Byrd, chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Nonessential Federal Expenditures, recently reported, as heretofore noted in this department, that in the last four months there has been a steady rise in the total of these government jobholders.

It was a year ago that Chairman Byrd's committee recommended an immediate reduction of 300,000 in civilian personnel and told how this could be done. Exasperated by the executive branch's failure to do something about it, Senator Byrd has given notice that, when Congress resumes its session, he will press for legislative action to halt "the appalling waste of manpower in the government service." This should stir Congress out of its lethargy. It is hoped so, at least.

There is waste, a great deal of waste, but that Senator Byrd will get very far before the election is doubtful. Even Congress, which had an opportunity to do something about it in June, voted most departments more money than they had in the last fiscal year.

But Senator Byrd, who talks and acts for America, knowing only too well how unpopular it makes him with jobholders who wield no small influence, is to be commended for persistence in a needed effort. The fact that the support he receives in Congress is so meager is a circumstance that stinks.

West Virginia Bear Get A Chance To Survive

IT IS a bit early for hunters on this side of the Potomac to be thinking of bear-hunting expeditions in the mountains of West Virginia but an announcement from the capital of that state will be useful to them in chalking up their fall calendar. The West Virginia State Conservation Commission has decreed that the big black bear, the hide of which could be nailed on the barn door at any time of the year, has been put on the closed season list for the first time in the history of the state.

The reason is that the black bear is fast headed toward extinction in the adjoining state. W. R. DeGarmo, state game technician, informed the commission that ten years ago there were between 2,500 and 3,000 black bear in the state but that the population now is less than 500. Action was urged to prevent the extinction of the animal and note was made of requests from surrounding states that a closed season be declared. Whereupon the commission decreed that black bear may be hunted in that state this year only between November 27 and December 2 with a limit of one per season per hunter.

That doesn't give our bear hunters much of a chance, but it does give the bear a run for its hide.

German generals are either being killed or being captured in such great numbers we wouldn't wonder if Hitler, on raising an officer to star rank, wishes not good luck but goodbye.

You don't have to persuade the French not to ride trains during the vacation period. United States Thunderbolts have blasted sixty miles of railways in France.

We hope that baby girl, born on D-day and named Invasion, some day soon has a new little cousin, Surrendra.

An Allied air umbrella is just the right kind of ceiling for Hitler's roofless Fortress Europe.

This and That

By MARSHALL MASLIN

I boasted of my luck so far, and my hand moved to knock on the nearest wood. I stayed it and would not knock. Such foolishness, such superstition! . . . Not for me. Let the cells of my body, let the convolutions of my brain be superstitious! Not me, not mine! I'm free of that silly stuff. . . . Should I knock on wood when I pass beneath a ladder or mentioned my luck, to take away the curse that might befall my arrogance? Why don't knock on wood when I'm cranky, prejudiced, or spiteful? That's a bigger curse by far and all the more reason for knocking on wood.

Automobiles honk, a fire engine goes by screaming and yelling people shout, an airplane makes a great buzz over head, doors slam, brakes squeak, policemen whistle. Such a clatter. I have been living in it, working in it, and suddenly for one quick clarified instant I am aware of all this beastly city disturbance. I say to myself: "How amazing that human beings who think they must work in quiet can work in such a clatter!" . . . And yet they do it. They make a small island of quiet around them and afterwards are more disturbed by quiet than by noise. Now I remember it was a rare interval of silence in the city's street that made me so aware of the noise that went before and is all around me now, again.

I played at bridge and hesitated too long before bidding. Finally I said: "I may be making a big mistake, but I'm going to do it just the same." Afterwards a wiser player said to me: "Never say such things. If you are going to bid, bid. If you're not going to bid, keep quiet—just pass! Don't let the other fellow know you are in doubt. He doesn't know that, he will think you stronger than you are, and you can profit by his ignorance." Good advice and I've proved it many times since—at bridge if I could apply his wisdom to daily life, he probably to him would be even greater.

Often, a friend, "I've tried to keep a group warm but I can't. I get a good grouch and tell myself that this time I'll keep it. I'll nurse it and water it and keep it alive. But five minutes later my anger is cooled off and I've almost forgotten I intended to stay mad. What can I do about it?" Nothing.

WAS THAT A KNOCK AT THE DOOR?

American marines for use in the landings of Europe, but, on the other hand, the marine corps has progressed because it has been a relatively small organization with its own artillery, its own communications and its own aviation. Naturally this special organization, being limited in size, has been reserved for the Pacific war. Few people realize that the marine corps is a self-contained army and that why its work is so smoothly and successfully carried out.

There is no jealousy between the marines and the navy. They work together. They have been trained to work together. They understand each other's methods and supplement each other's efforts. In past years the country has heard a good deal about the marines and has heard their praises sung, but it is beginning to look now as if inter-service delicacy or tact or diplomacy has been carried to an extreme, or else that the marines have suddenly grown modest.

Gen. Montgomery Sure of Success, Simpson Asserts

By KIRK L. SIMPSON
Associated Press Analyst

There is a ringing confidence in General Montgomery's salute to his invasion troops in France, assuring them that the Normandy "lodgment area" they have carved out is "very firm and secure."

Like the roaring thunder of Allied guns all along the flaming battle line, it warned the Germans that Normandy is only the springboard for the Allied "offensive operations" Montgomery said were now developing "according to plan."

Needs More "Elbow Room."

Greater elbow room for further expansion of his twenty-first army group in France is Montgomery's immediate need. It will take far more powerful forces than have yet crossed to the continent to fulfill his expressed "desire of every Allied soldier in Normandy to finish this business off as quickly as possible." It requires more deep-water ports like Cherbourg to feed the battle lines as well as an expanding maneuver front from which to execute in greater scope the cat-and-mouse tactical game Montgomery is playing with the foe.

His message to his troops is significant because it marks the successful conclusion of the first phase of the invasion, despite water and weather hazards, even as the preliminaries of its larger development are in process. There have been intimations that the weight of the Allied attack might be shifting eastward already in the Normandy area with Paris its long range objective.

British Plans Secret

Certainly Montgomery would give no intimation of his broad strategic mission until his invasion lodgement zone was secure, its communication lines with Britain in all weather assured and its area broad enough and deep enough for heavy additional forces in men and equipment to be brought in. The first two conditions have been fulfilled. The third is in process of fulfillment in the American right flank drive to clear the whole Cherbourg peninsula and the British-Canadian capture of the Caen bastion on the left.

At some early time Montgomery

THEATER SEATS FOR NEGROES IS COUNCIL TOPIC

Charles Z. Heskett, city attorney, told the mayor and city council Monday that the city has no power to compel a theater to admit negroes. Heskett's statement was made in answer to a letter to Mayor Thomas S. Post, from Earle L. Bracey.

Heskett pointed out that theater entertainment is a private business in the eyes of the law, and said it is unfortunate that negroes do not have some of the benefits of others.

Mayor Post said that inasmuch as the letter was addressed to him he wanted to state he is opposed to racial discrimination, that he will be glad to meet with any group to discuss grievances, and that he urges united action by all people to advance their interests.

Hermon Meyers, whose name appeared on the letter, along with that of Bracey and William Jones, addressed the council, declaring: "Many of us have gone to fight—I have five cousins in England now. We only ask for a limited number of seats. As it is, we have to go to Prostburg, to Bedford, or Keyser. We are only allowed in one theatre here and that is closed sometimes."

"We are not that bad. We don't bother people. The police don't have trouble with our children. Our boys are dying for our country, so why can't we see a movie?"

"We used to be allowed in the Maryland balcony. No one was killed or hurt. The only place for us to go is a beer garden. We try to get along with people but some make it worse for us."

In answer to a question by Helfrich, Meyers said his group had contacted theatre managers and was informed the theatres are following local policy.

"We only ask for a few seats in one place in a theatre," said Meyers. The mayor proposed the negro group prepare a petition setting forth its request.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get clogged, you feel tired, irritable. You may have to give up night work or scanty passes with smearing and burning sometimes, when there is something wrong with your kidneys. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable sleepless nights.

When disorder of kidney function permits noxious wastes to remain in your blood, it may also cause cramps, backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of appetite, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Dean's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Dean's Pills.

PAVING OF PINE AVENUE SOUGHT

Mrs. Edna Root, 402 Pine avenue, presented a petition to the mayor and city council Monday, asking that Pine avenue be paved, asserting that it is "mud in the winter and dust in the summer." The petition was referred to the street commissioner.

Other matters before the council included:

Estel V. Oster, 710 Frederick street, was ordered paid $14 for wheel and tire damages when his car hit an open manhole. The order was introduced by Commissioner Hunter B. Helfrich and its lone opponent was Mayor Thomas S. Post.

In response to a letter from the mayor, Ezra B. Whiteman, chairman of the state roads commission, said his group cannot consider any work in Cumberland now with the exception of the already-approved hard surfacing of Bedford road.

An approved order authorized the purchase of a Nash car from the M-G-K Motor Company for $1,647.64.

Airport receipts last week were $63.87.

Charles Z. Heskett, city attorney, said the Union Tanning Co. will sell its Blue Spring property, 33 by 132 feet, at the assessed valuation of $165. The attorney said something would have to be done with the spring in a flood control plan and Ralph L. Rizer, city engineer, said it could be used to flush the area.

Then I heard about KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN through your radio program. The broadcast clearly gave me my daily helping of ALL-BRAN. I am regular as clockwork. Thanks for what your ALL-BRAN has done for me." Mrs. Mary Wood, 274 Indianapolis, Ind., Akron, Ohio.

Yes, it does seem like magic, the way KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN helps so many people. "Gets at" one common cause of constipation—lack of enough dietary "cellulose" elements. That's because ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements—which help the friendly colon flora "tuff up" and prepare the economic contents for natural elimination! KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If your constipation is this kind, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly, with milk and fruit, or mixed with other cereals. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't find real help! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

CIO Political Action Committee's Indorsement May Harm Candidates

Gallup Survey Shows Most Voters Are Opposed to Group's Activities

By Dr. GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., July 11.—While the CIO Political Action Committee is making a strong bid for political power throughout the country, there is reason to believe that its indorsement of a candidate may do more harm than good in the general election.

Although it is true that CIO-endorsed candidates have scored victories in certain areas, throughout the country as a whole, a majority of all voters and a heavy percentage of those who say they are independent voters report that they are more likely to vote against a candidate than to vote for him if he has the support of the CIO.

These facts are brought to light in a recent nation-wide, cross-section survey in which voters were asked this question:

"If the CIO union supported a candidate, would you be more likely to vote for that candidate, or against him?"

The replies for the country as a whole are as follows:

More Likely to Vote For . . . 10% Against . . . 53 Would Make No Difference 20 No Opinion . . . 17

Thus, while a candidate receiving CIO indorsement may be able to count upon heavy support among CIO union members who vote, other things being equal he faces the risk of alienating many other voters whose support he might otherwise win.

Among independent voters, even among Democratic voters, a substantial percentage say they would be more likely to vote against a candidate than to vote for him if he has CIO support.

This is shown in the following table giving the vote on the same question among those who consider themselves Republican, Democratic, and independent:

Rep. Dem. Indep.
More Likely to Vote For . . . 6% 14% 9%
Against . . . 68 43 46
Would Make No Difference . . . 14 22 28
No Opinion . . . 12 21 17

The public has all along favored the principle of unionism, but it has been highly critical of certain of the union leaders and of the union practices. The present survey undoubtedly a reflection of the public's critical attitude, emphasizes that any CIO effort on behalf of a candidate must be directed toward the general voting public as well as toward its own membership.

PORT GEORGE G. MEADE, Md., July 11 (P)—Army officers disclosed today that work quotas for German prisoners of war employed at bean-harvesting near Westminster had been revised slightly upon request of a prisoner spokesman, who said the figures could not be met.

The original contract based work quotas on standards for experienced agricultural workers, the Fort Meade public relations office explained.

The prisoners' spokesman, appointed under the rules of the Geneva conference, brought the matter to the attention of camp officials and work was halted for an hour while a conference was held. As a result, quotas were scaled downward.

The public relations office said work now was proceeding satisfactorily.

The Westminster camp is a "side camp" of Meade's prisoner of war establishment.

Election Supervisors Discuss Handling Of Soldier Vote

BALTIMORE, July 11 (P)—Approximately 100 election supervisors, election board attorneys and clerks from every Maryland county and Baltimore city, heard members of the State War Ballot commission explain plans today for handling the absentee soldier vote—expected to increase considerably as the election nears.

The rules and regulations were read and explained by Attorney General William C. Walsh, after which the meeting was thrown open to questions from the floor.

A resolution was passed unanimously to have the supervisors of elections from all the counties send to the acting secretary of state complete lists of all applications for absentee voting privileges received as of July 15. With those lists as the basis, the secretary is charged with keeping a complete file on all servicemen planning to participate in the election.

Randolph, chairman of the Aviation committee of the West Virginia Planning Board, is the author of legislation now before Congress, to construct thousands of airports over a ten-year period, the projects to be started at the close of the war. He has been a summer visitor to this section for many years.

Praises Governor's Interest
"I am sure Congressman Beall, of this district, will be interested in a meeting with interested persons to discuss the possibilities, and I will be glad to co-operate in any way," Randolph remarked. He said he was gratified to hear that interest which Governor Herbert O'Connor is taking in the development of aviation.

Beall and Randolph have been active in bringing about the completion of the Cumberland airport located at Wiley Ford, W. Va.

Daily air transport service is scheduled to begin there in the next few months. The Morgantown airport will add TWA service to its PCA in the future to make the flight time from Morgantown to Washington direct in one hour. Thirty-five minutes will be the flight time from Cumberland to Washington, and would be less than fifty minutes from this area, should an airport be constructed.

Randolph Urges Mountain Airport In Oakland Area

Congressman Declares Flying Will Increase after War

By GEORGE M. HANST

OAKLAND, July 11—That Oakland and the Mountain Lake Park resort area should construct an airport to be used in the postwar era of air travel, was the opinion expressed this week by Representative Jennings Randolph.

The West Virginia Congressman, with his mother, Mrs. Ernest Randolph, of Elkins, was a guest for several days at the Mountain Lake hotel. He declared "people in this territory should begin at once to formulate plans for an adequate but inexpensive airport in this scenic and recreational mountain top region." He thought a single runway would be sufficient.

Says Flying Will Grow
"Private flying will have a tremendous growth after victory has been won. Two and four-passenger aircraft could bring hundreds of passengers to Western Maryland each summer from Washington, Baltimore and nearby West Virginia areas," he stated.

Randolph, chairman of the Aviation committee of the West Virginia Planning Board, is the author of legislation now before Congress, to construct thousands of airports over a ten-year period, the projects to be started at the close of the war. He has been a summer visitor to this section for many years.

Master Sgt. Robert Singleton Is with Liberator Bombardment Group

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTEEN AAF IN ITALY—Master

Sgt. Robert J. (Jimmy) Singleton, 22, son of Mrs. Adeline Singleton, 528 Penn avenue, Turtle Creek, Pa., is rounding out two years overseas as a line chief with this veteran Liberator heavy bombardment group.

The former Lonaconing (Md.) Central high school man is in charge of maintenance and airplane mechanics servicing a squadron of Liberators. Prior to his present duties, he was a crew chief responsible for servicing one aircraft; later, a flight chief, supervising four to five B-24 ground crews.

He came overseas with this group, one of the first United States "heavy" outfits to be based in the Middle East, supporting the British Eighth Army's drive against Rommel.

He flew several combat missions while stationed in the Middle East and holds the Air Medal.

Sgt. Singleton remembers his most interesting experience as happening during the year he and his outfit were stationed in the North African desert. He says:

"The preparation for the low-level Ploesti oil field attack really made us work. One plane on which we finished an engine change just ten minutes before scheduled take off flew so low approaching the target that corn stalks and pieces of trees were pulled from the bomb bay section when it came back. She landed up to her name of 'Corn-kicker.'

After graduating from Central high school in 1939, where he played on the soccer, basketball and softball teams, Sgt. Singleton enlisted in the air force at Pittsburgh, Pa., on Sept. 22, 1939.

The native Marylander wears the Air Medal, Distinguished Merit badge with cluster, Army Good Conduct Medal and the Middle East-European theater ribbon.

Funeral Services

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, from the Bolden Funeral Home, with the Rev. J. E. Johnson officiating. Interment will be in the May cemetery, near Loch Lynn.

Cardinals Will Play More Night Games

after which 77-year-old Commissioner K. M. Landis visibly showed the effects of the intense heat, the leagues said any club could play as many night games as desired, except on Sunday, with the approval of the visiting team. Only Washington, at present, plays all of its week-day games under the lights. Although none of the owners were sure as to just what use they would make of the ruling, President Sam Breadon of the St. Louis Cardinals said the National League leaders probably would play all of the remaining week-day games at the lady fans will be admitted free. Another regular night game is scheduled for Saturday.

Officials of the Phillies, Athletics and White Sox said they would add more games but would not go all the way. The Dodgers, Giants, Pirates and Indians also may add a few more night games.

The Major-Minor League agreement, due to expire Jan. 12, 1945, was extended until Jan. 12, 1946 but before becoming official must also be approved by the Minor Leagues. The Major League pact, under which Landis has ruled baseball since 1921, also expires Jan. 12, 1946, and it was decided that each league should appoint a committee to consider a new agreement and report back at the December meeting.

Landis, asked about reports that he might resign when the major league expires, refused to comment other than to say:

"You'll have to ask Leslie O'Connor (Landis' secretary) about that. He makes all of my announcements."

O'Connor declined to throw any light on the subject.

National Leaguers Win Twelfth All-Star Game by 7 to 1 Score

Four Run Rally in Fifth Inning Is Feature of Game in Pittsburgh

By ORLO ROBERTSON

FORBES FIELD, Pittsburgh, July 11 (P) — The National League handed the American League its most one-sided defeat in twelve years of All-Star history tonight, blasting out a 7-1 victory to break the junior circuit's three-year monopoly on baseball's dream game.

In style reminiscent of many of the American League's eight triumphs since the diamond stars started getting together in 1933, the National Leaguers pounded out twelve hits while four of their pitchers checked the men coached by Marse Joe McCarthy of the Cincinnati Reds in the first three innings.

A crowd of 29,589 which with the help of $25,000 from radio rights, put $106,275 into the leagues' bat and ball fund for servicemen, saw the American League stars jump away to a one-run lead in the second inning and then settled back as expecting the game to go the usual way.

Hughson Hit Hard

But with the passing of Walters, the McCarthy men found themselves checked by the combined hurling of Ken Raffensberger, Phillips' southpaw, Rip Sewell, the Pirates' stopper ball hurler, and Boston's Jim Tobin of flutter ball fame.

Hank Bowry, ace of the Yankee mound staff, left the game at the end of the third with chance to win the game since he personally had put the American League in front with a run-scoring single in the second.

But Tex Hughson was unable to hold off the rampaging Nationals. They jumped on him for four runs in the fifth inning, picked up two more at the expense of Detroit's Hal (Lefty) Newhouser in the seventh and added their seventh tally in the eighth off the Tiger southpaw without getting a hit.

Meanwhile, Raffensberger gave up only one hit in two innings before retiring for pinch hitter Bill Nicholson of Chicago, who started Billy Southworth's stars on their way with a double. Sewell, hurling the sixth, seventh and eighth frames and Tobin in the ninth set their rivals down in order.

Until the Nationals cut loose in the fifth they had got only three hits but were robbed of a run in the first when Stan Spence of the Senators made a great throw to the plate to complete a double play.

Nicholson's Hit Ties Score

Connie Ryan, fiery Brave's second sacker, opened the fifth with a single and stole second as Hughson struck out Martin Marion. Nicholson batted for Raffensberger and responded by lining a double down the right field foul line. That blow tied the score.

Galan Makes Timely Hit

Augie Galan of the Cubs sent the Nationals ahead with a single that scored Nicholson and when Phil Cavaretta of the Cubs walked and Stan Musial, the Cards' league-leading hitter, was safe on George McQuinn's error, the bases were loaded.

Walker Cooper promptly unloaded part of them with a single to left that scored Galan but Cavaretta was caught at the plate in a close play that brought the National Leaguers out storming around Umpire Cal Hubbard. Dixie Walker of the Dodgers drove home the fourth

Penn-Mar Playoff Set for Saturday

The Steelers of Cumberland and Centerville will meet Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on a neutral field (Community Park), Cumberland in a playoff game which will decide the first half championship of the Penn-Mar Baseball League. The teams ended the first half in a tie for first place each winning seven games and losing three.

Arrangements for the game were made at a meeting Monday night between President Northcraft and representatives of the two teams. Two neutral umpires were selected to handle the game. Othie Dyer, Cumberland, will call balls and strikes and Bobby Blair, Midland, will umpire the bases.

It was mutually agreed that after all necessary expenses are paid that the two teams will split the balance of the gate on a 50-50 basis.

OAKLAND, July 11 — Tournament tennis will return to Mountain Lake Park this year, it has been announced by J. Patrick Beacon, president of the Mt. Lake Park Tennis Club. The organization will sponsor a War Bond Invitation Tournament on August 24 and 26.

The last Western Maryland championship tournament, sanctioned by the United States Lawn Tennis Association, was held in 1941 a few months before Pearl Harbor and since that time there has been no official tournament play. This year a new club was formed and reconstruction of the courts and tennis facilities have been undertaken.

Beacon also announced that Ralph E. Weber had been named tournament director. Weber served as director of most of the former tournaments of the Western Maryland Championships. The appointment was made by the board of directors and club officers, Rep. Jennings Randolph, of the Second West Virginia district, and for many years a summer resident at the Park, is a member of the board of directors.

There will be men's and women's singles, men's and women's and mixed doubles. Entries are to be mailed to the director of the Tennis Club's War Bond Invitation Tournament, care of the Mt. Lake Hotel, Mt. Lake Park, Md. Entries will close August 23 and drawing will be held on the eve of the tourney.

PITTSBURGH, July 11 (P) — Frankie Zak, the Pirates' tiny stopper who broke into a regular berth only a few weeks ago, found himself in the All-Star lineup tonight more surprised than the 30,000 fans present. When Eppie Miller of Cincinnati came up with a sore arm, Pete Coscarat of the Pirates was picked for the spot, but Pete was out fishing and couldn't be located, so Zak was the choice of Manager Billy Southworth.

Danny Nirella's band, which has played for every important game in Forbes Field since it was dedicated thirty-five years ago last June 30, officially opened the game with the national anthem. Danny's "boys" played for the world series of 1909, 1925 and 1927.

Joe Cronin, one of the two men in uniform who played in the first All-Star game in 1933, went to the mound in batting practice and Stan Speeze of Washington blasted two of the pitches into the right field stands—one into the upper tier. Bob Doerr of Boston smacked two over the left field wall, and Walker Cooper smashed one more than 400 feet.

Robert (Lefty) Grove and Carl (Screwball) Hubbell, two of baseball's all-time pitching greats, got together before the game for a fan-faring bee. Cy Young, winner of 511 major league games, also was present. Grove told Hubbell he hadn't thrown a ball since he retired from the game.

Hank Bowry of the Yankees had two honors to remember in his first All-Star game. He was named starting pitcher for the Americans and drove in the first run of the game when he singled in the second, scoring Thurman Tucker of the White Sox.

Van Sant Defeats Ostermeyer 6-0, 6-2

L. E. Van Sant advanced to semifinals for the city tennis championship yesterday evening on the Dingle courts by defeating R. W. Ostermeyer, Jr., 6-0, 6-2, a newcomer to city tennis courts, employed as a chemical engineer at the Celanese plant.

A half dozen col'ge boys from other cities employed at the Pinto and Celanese plants, and several girls, have added to the interest of the tournament and practically made it possible this year.

Four players remain of the twenty-six entries in the men's singles: Wallace Spaulding, "Bud" Brazel, Maurice Bernstein and L. E. Van Sant.

Spaulding and Brazel meet this evening at 6:30 on the Country Club courts. Bernstein and Van Sant play the other semi-final match.

Two matches in the women's singles are scheduled for today. Mrs. Hope Mills plays Mrs. Gladys Burns at 6:30 at the Dingle. Louise Wilson meets Joan Rilling at 6:30 on the Garlitz courts.

Indians Down Frostburg

The Indians defeated Frostburg in their Midget League game Sunday, 8-4, at Frostburg Jack Kauffman, pitching and allowing the Frosties only two hits. The Indians lambasted the losers with 11 smashes. Frank was on the mound for Frostburg.

In Memoriam

Dear and loving memory of son and brother, John J. Spinetta, who departed this life one year ago, July 11, 1943.

One so dearly loved by all
A sudden grief, a shock severe was to part with one so dear.

We often sit and think of you
And of how much you meant to us
But you could not say goodbye
Before you closed your eyes.

Painfully sleeping, resting at last
Silence he suffered, in patience he bore.
God called him home to suffer no more.

Robert C. Bowers Is Commander Of Legionnaires

Paul C. Weisenmiller Is Elected First Vice Commander of Post

Robert C. Bowers was elected commander of Port Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion, for the second time in six years in the annual contest last evening at the Legion home.

He won over Samuel A. Graham, first vice commander, in one of the most spirited contests in the history of the local organization.

Bowers, who has been salesman for General Mills, Inc., for twenty-three years, was first elected commander of the local post in 1939. He resides at 650 Fayette street.

Two hundred and ninety-nine ballots were cast in the last night's contest for the commandant and other offices.

Weisenmiller Elected

Paul C. Weisenmiller was elected first vice commander over George F. Buskey and Humphrey E. Johnson and William J. McCrory were elected to the post's executive committee. Charles G. Smith, retiring commander, automatically becomes a member of the executive committee. Unsuccessful candidates for executive committee posts were Verner J. Winkler and William Henry Frazier.

Unopposed candidates elected include:

Milton P. Crabtree, second vice commander; Russell C. Faupel, adjutant; Leo C. Reichert, finance officer; Thomas Raymond Farrell, chaplain; Philip P. Fleming, sergeant-at-arms, and Heyl D. Walker, historian.

Paupe was elected adjutant for his eighth term and Reichert was returned as finance officer for the sixth year.

Court Ballots Today

Delegates and alternates to the Maryland department convention August 11, 12 and 13 in Baltimore were voted on last evening but the ballots will not be counted until this evening.

Newly elected officers will be installed Tuesday, July 25.

Election judges and tellers were Joseph L. Wolfe, Grant Wiebel, Arthur Lancaster and Clarence Eye.

Woman Marries Brother Here in Proxy Ceremony

Seeks Annulment in Order To Wed Inmate of Penitentiary

Married in Cumberland to her brother, standing in for a proxy marriage to an inmate of Western penitentiary, Pittsburgh, Mrs. Pauline Gelardo, Pittsburgh, has filed a petition in common pleas court there for annulment of the wedding as the first step in her plan to wed the prisoner, Alphonse P. Mendola, and help him in reformation.

The story, published in the Pittsburgh Press, indicates that Mrs. Gelardo is faced with several barriers before she can complete her plan. Among them are an indefinite postponement in Mendola's application for parole, and the fact that he is wanted for parole violation from Attica prison in New York State as soon as he is free to leave the Pennsylvania institution.

Mrs. Gelardo, the Pittsburgh paper, has known Mendola's family in Rochester, N.Y., for many years and through his sister learned of his progress toward rehabilitation in the almost five years he has been confined in the penitentiary on charges of breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny.

Friendship Ripens

On January 27, Mrs. Gelardo, a widow, visited Mendola for the first time, just as a friend. It was thought, however, she said, that the attentions of someone he could learn to love would help in his effort toward rehabilitation. Their friendship ripened and the proxy marriage resulted.

It was arranged easily, Mrs. Gelardo said. Her brother would meet her in Cumberland where, she was told, "such things were easy to arrange." She carried a power of attorney she had obtained from Mendola in case any questions were asked. None were, she said.

The license application was filed January 31, 1944, and the license was granted on February 2, the proxy wedding taking place the same day.

Uses Mendola's Name

Nobody asked for the legal papers. Mrs. Gelardo said, and it seemed much easier for her brother to use the name of Mendola in applying for the license and in the marriage ceremony itself.

But the marriage came to light. She visited the penitentiary on February 19 and again on March 24 as Mrs. Gelardo, and on April 25 she registered as Mrs. Mendola and that was when the visits were stopped.

Although Mendola's application for parole from his five-to-ten-year sentence has been held up indefinitely, Mrs. Gelardo declared, "That won't stop our marriage for a minute after I get my annulment. We'll be married in prison if they will let us."

However, Warden Stanley Ashe won't permit the marriage in the prison nor is Mrs. Gelardo permitted any further visits or correspondence with Mendola. And there's still that trip to Attica to be considered.

Camera Club Will Meet

The Cumberland Camera Club will hold an open air meeting and regular monthly prime contests today at 6:30 p.m. in Constitution park.

Pictures entered in the black and white and tinted contests will be judged at 7:45 p.m. and will be exhibited on the stage of the amphitheater.

Refreshments will be served in one of the park groves.

Buyers of used cars will receive no gas allowance until they turn in their transfer certificates to the local War Price and Rationing Board, it was announced yesterday.

Officials of the board also warned prospective car buyers to make certain the automobile has a tag attached designating the ceiling price as specified by the OPA under its ruling which went into effect July 1. Each car has a definite price and must be tagged while on display, it was explained.
